

HOW THE MIGHTY FALL

UZZIAH - JASON STRAND - MAY 26/27

You are most susceptible to fall when you are the most successful. So how can we avoid common pitfalls and honor God in our success? Accept criticism. Build God's kingdom and not our own. And when we find success, stay humble.

Discussion Questions

1. In what areas of life do you want to find success? What's your motivation for seeking that success?
2. What trap doors can you identify in your life—opportunities or temptations that look fun and appealing but would lead to some major consequences? What boundaries or accountability do you need to establish to avoid those trap doors?
3. If you could speak to yourself from three years ago, what would you say? What pitfalls or mistakes would you warn yourself against?
4. How do you handle correction? Are you open to it or do you get resentful? Going forward, how can you honor God in how you respond to correction?

Challenge

This week, focus on building God's kingdom—not your own. Go out of your way to help someone in need. Offer godly wisdom to someone who needs it. Serve at a local non-profit. Each day, ask God how you can bring Him glory through your thoughts, words, and actions.

Commit to Memory

I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, and I have remained faithful.
